Cultural Gifts Program

* indicates a required field

The Cultural Gifts Program (CGP) offers tax incentives to encourage people to donate cultural items to public art galleries, museums, libraries and archives in Australia. Donations can include visual and decorative arts, Indigenous arts and cultural artefacts, social history and scientific collections, and archival material (among other things).

Donors can claim the GST inclusive market value of the gift as a deduction from their taxable income. To make a claim, the donation must be valued by at least two independent valuers who are approved by the Arts Secretary to value the kind of property being gifted. The donors can then claim the average of the valuations as the tax deduction. For donors, the market value of the gift and the cost of obtaining the valuation are tax deductible, deductions can be spread over five income years. We encourage institutions, donors and valuers to consult the Cultural Gifts Program Guide prior to undertaking an application.

Donors should seek professional tax advice in relation to their donation including time limitations.

Please note:

The Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications, Sport and the Arts (the department) administers the Cultural Gifts Program (CGP) and is collecting your personal information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988. Providing your personal information is voluntary but if you fail to do so then the department cannot consider your application.

The department will use your personal information to assess and manage your application under the CGP including issuing a Finalisation Notice where appropriate. The department may share your personal information with third parties as it considers necessary or desirable in connection with assessing and managing your application under the CGP including (but not limited to) the Australian Taxation Office and the relevant public collecting institution to which you are proposing to donate.

The department will not otherwise use or disclose your personal information unless authorised by law.

The department will store your personal information securely and the department's privacy policy contains information regarding complaint handling processes and how to access and/or seek correction of personal information held by the Department. Collection policies

The CGP Guide (the Guide) notes that all gifts made under the program must form part of a collection being maintained or established by the recipient institution.

Donations made through this program are supported by Australian taxpayers, therefore recipient institutions must carefully consider whether proposed gift(s):

- conform with the institution's collection development or acquisition policy
- are culturally significant and will be of ongoing value to their collection; and
- formally accept the gift(s) into its permanent

The Guide acknowledges that changes to collection or acquisition policies may be made over time and outlines the parameters which apply to deaccessioning and disposal of collection items gifted through the CGP. Please refer to page 3 of the CGP Guide for more information about your obligations when deaccessioning and disposing of gifted items.

Please provide your current collection policy/ies, including deaccessioning and disposal policy/ies *

Does your collection/deaccessioning policy/ies include a clause that states gifts made under the CGP will not be returned to the donor as the donor has already received the benefit of a tax deduction for the gift? *

Yes

No

If you answered 'No' please contact the CGP team on 02 6136 8017 or by email at cgp.mail@arts.gov.au to discuss.

Does the donation conform with your institution's collection/ acquisition policy? *

Yes

No

Please tell us how this donation conforms with your institution's collection policy and how the gifted item/s will enhance or expand your collections. This statement should not repeat your collection policy, rather it should succinctly and clearly justify how the donated item(s) conform with the objectives of your collection/acquisition policy. *

For example:

*The donation comprises an unusually large and exceptionally high-quality slab of the Permian Cundlego Formation. Numerous crinoids (Jimbacrinus bostocki) are exposed on the bedding plane along with a large 3D preserved bryozoan and other invertebrates (bivalves and brachiopods). As stated on page 29 (iv) in the [institution's name] Collections Policy, Palaeozoic (Cambrian-Permian) crinoids are amongst the fossil groups targeted for collecting by the Department of Earth & Planetary Sciences. The slab is both of very high aesthetic significance as a display item (p. 10 [6.3 Significance Criteria]) and of scientific importance (includes a very rare 3D preserved bryozoan).*

OR

[Name of institution] collection and acquisitions policies describe the collection of significant Australian contemporary art. Beckhouse is a respected and unique Australian ceramicist whose practice is already represented in our collection with a much smaller work, this large institutional scale piece complements the collection.

OR

The Collection Policy of the [institution name] states that it will collect artworks, teaching aids and/or documentation created, or owned, by students and staff of the [institution]. As the donor was a part-time lecturer in ceramics at [the institution] 1983-1996; a full-time lecturer in ceramics at [the institution] 1997-2009 and Head of Ceramics 2010-2016, this gift is fulfills the [institution's] collection policy requirements.

Please provide your statement here *

Word count:

Must be no more than 300 words.

To be eligible for the Cultural Gifts Program the proposed gift must conform to the institution's collection policy and be of ongoing value as part of the institution's permanent collection.

Provenance

Recipient institutions must undertake due diligence to identify, mitigate and manage any risks associated with receiving gifts under the CGP. In particular, institutions should be committed to the Provenance and due diligence information and research principles outlined in Sections 5 and 6 of the Australian Best Practice Guide to Collecting Cultural Material.

Was the donor the maker or creator of any items included in the donation? *

Yes No

Provide provenance information for the items that have been gifted and details of how you have substantiated this information. This could include referencing auction records, exhibition catalogues, catalogue raisonné, labels, invoices, certificates of authenticity, deed of gift etc. *

Word count:

Must be no more than 300 words.

Have you confirmed that the donor has clear title to the gift and that this title does not conflict with other relevant Commonwealth legislation, such as the Archives Act 1983, the Copyright Act 1968 and the Protection of Moveable Cultural Heritage Act 1986? *

Yes No

If no please contact the CGP team on 02 6136 8017 or by email at cgp.mail@arts.gov.au

Is any item in this donation one that was created by an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander artist or an item of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander material culture? *

Yes No

Please upload a Certificate of Authenticity for each individual work of art by an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander artist or for any item/s of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander material culture.

If you are unable to include a Certificate of Authenticity for one or more items in the donation, you must upload a statutory declaration (found here) signed by an individual who is authorised to act on behalf of your institution, stating that:

- the proposed gift conforms with your institution's collection policy and that the gift will be of ongoing value to the collection
- the proposed gift has been formally accepted into your permanent collection
- the donor had clear title to the gift prior to this donation and that the item/s being donated do not raise concerns or conflict with relevant legislative provisions, including the Protection of Moveable Cultural Heritage Act 1986
- your institution has thoroughly researched and can validate the authenticity and provenance of the item/s, including the location in which it was collected.

Yes

No

Please Note: If you use a valuer who has not received approval to value the category of work/s included in the donation you will be asked to seek additional valuations from a valuers with the appropriate approvals. This will impact the processing time of the application. If you are unsure about a valuer's class approvals, please contact the CGP team on 02 6136 8017 or via email at cgp.mail@arts.gov.au to discuss this gift.

Valuation 1

* indicates a required field

To claim a tax deduction for their gift, donors must receive two independent valuations from valuers that are approved by the Arts Secretary to value the class of property being donated. Please do not obtain a third valuation unless this has been discussed with, or requested by, the department. A list of approved valuers is available on our website.

Applicants must ensure that valuers they engage are approved to value the particular class of property relevant to the item/s being gifted. If the valuer is not approved to value the relevant class of property, this will cause delays in processing the application and you will be required to provide new valuations by valuers who are approved to value the class of property in the donation.

Split valuations

Each item included in the donation must be valued by an approved valuer with the appropriate class approvals. In some cases, one valuer will not be able to value all the items

Cultural Gifts Application Form 2026/27

included in the gift. For example, a valuer who is approved to value paintings and jewellery may not be approved to value scientific material or textiles.

In these circumstances you must split the valuation. A split valuation is where the valuation of a collection of items is split between two or more valuers, usually because they are not approved to value all of the classes of items in the collection.

For example, if the donation comprises paintings and ceramics, and you have engaged a different valuer for the paintings to the valuer appraising the ceramics, you will need to split the valuation.

In some circumstances Valuation 1 may include two or more, while Valuation 2 may be carried out by a single valuer who is approved to value all classes of material in the donation or vice versa.

When a split valuation is required the applicant must present one complete valuation which includes the different (split) valuations. The combined total of a split valuation will be treated as the total of one valuation, therefore a second valuation for the whole gift will still be required.

If you need to add extra valuers click 'Add More' at the prompts below.

Valuation Certificates are uploaded in this section. The current template is available on our website.
